The P.-T.A. Conference Goes To Floydada, 1938

The 10th Annual Conference of the 14th District, Parent-Teacher Association, will meet in Floydada, Texas in 1938. The Mayor of that progressive little city was present during the entire time of the Conference in Hamlin last Friday and Saturday and he extended the invitation of his city to the Conference.

The Hamlin unit of the P.-T. A. requests the Herald to say for them that each and every member feels truly grateful for the generosity of the Hamlin people in general, in helping make the stay of the delegation in our city a pleasant one, and that with your help and many ready responses the Conference was thus a success from every standpoint.

The Conference adopted suitable resolutions, of appreciation to the many organizations of Hamlin for the many courtesies extended them while in Hamlin.

Hamlin really has NOW what it takes to make a convention a success—a spacious modern auditorium, a number of clubs, several churches with facilities for serving and the many modern homes for visitor's comfort, and then we must add that their is that "something" in the atmosphere in Hamlin called "Friendly" giving us a spontaneous slogan that sticks—"Friendly Hamlin."

One of the outstanding features of the Conference was the address of Mrs. Charles E. Roe, National Field Secretary of Washington, D. C. Her talks were full of wit and humor.

Mrs. M. A. Taylor, State President was present and lent much encouragement and dignity to the Conference, but did not take time on the program, preferring to give others the opportunity.

The State Department of Health was represented by Miss Nelle Ayers, who stressed the importance of teaching health habits to children.

The Conference was fortunate in having the presence of Evangelist Horace Busby of Fort Worth, who addressed the audience on the "Home's Responsibility of Spiritual Training."

Supt. C. G. Green was one of the inspiring spirits in the Conference and he was joined by other school men, such as Dr. A. W. Evans of Texas Tech. Supt. Oberholzer of Lubbock schools and Supt. Thomas of Spur.

One of the entertainment features for the Conference was presented by the pupils of the Primary Department when they gave a pretty operetta "Spring Is Coming."

A string quartet from McMurry College, Abilene, rendered special music at the Friday evening program.

The Schubert Club rendered several charming numbers on the programs each day.

It would require a long story to give in detail every interesting thing in the two days program. Suffice it to say that the P.-T. A. had one of their best Annual Conferences in Hamlin and Hamlin was extremely glad to entertain the delegates.

ELECTION NOTICE

Pursuant to law, notice is hereby given that an election will be held on Tuesday, April 6th, 1937, at the City Hall in the City of Hamlin, Texas, at which polling place Tate May is presiding officer of elections, for the purpose of voting for

TWO (2) ALDERMEN

Given under my hand, this the 4th day of March, 1937.

JOE CULBERTSON, Mayor of the City of Hamlin, Texas. (19-4t)

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Rister, who have been spending several months here, left Saturday for Washington, going first to Dallas to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson for a day or two. They were accompanied by Tate May and son, James Tate, as far as Dallas. Dr. Rister is to spend several months research work in one of the governmental departments before resuming his place in the University of Oklahoma.

ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE SAT. & TUES.?

Step up citizens and vote your choice. You have two chances. One Saturday and the second, Tuesday. Saturday you may pick the men whom you desire for school trustees and next Tuesday two aldermen should be elected.

Now which of these offices do YOU think is the most important? The school trustees have to do with the management of your child's school and that is some job. The city council is also important and what a job do they have! Let a street get more holly than righteous and everybody yells, or maybe it is a culvert, or perhaps mosquitoes, or theodiferous odor from the disposal plant, or what not.

Usually there is a short vote in both of these elections, but should never be. Don't forget that if a man is chosen for an office of this nature his job is a thankless one, and yet has to do with whether or not the community has something or nothing.

It is mighty easy to have nothing and also easy to have the best your community can afford. The way to have is to select. The best or most interested man or woman should be asked to shoulder the responsibility. But this does not mean they should do ALL the work. In the opinion of the Herald writer, every man, woman and child has a responsibility and should bear his share in every worthy community enterprise. If the enterprise does not suit you, then propose one that is better—be sure it's better, too.

CITY OF HAMLIN TO FIGHT MOSQUITOES

Recently the City Secretary has received a booklet from the State Health Department on "Mosquito Control Measures" by Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

This is a brief resume of how and what to do in the fight on mosquitoes.

They list TEN MAJOR steps to be taken and more than 100 minor steps to clear and keep clear a community from mosquitoes.

The ten steps are simple and prime important. They are: Proper Land Drainage, Elimination of Artificial Breeding Containers, (which includes water in and about flower pots) Neglected Sanitation, Destroying the Morsquito larvae, by use of oils or poisons—the destruction of the larvae by means of fish—cleaning of shore-lines on lakes and ponds—poison sprays and gases—proper screening, etc.

The 100 minor ways of controlling mosquitoes has to do with the individual family or person. The community at large is first of importance, but unless the individual home-keeper does his part all other effort will be in vain.

About ones home may be a few stagnant water ponds, empty cans that fall top side up, or maybe its a cistern of rainwater, careless watering of flowers, and disposal of waste water. All these things produce mosquitoes if there be a few stray insects left over from the past season.

It should be plain to everyone that any attempt to control mosquitoes must be continuous and general if the effort is to succeed. To enforce proper control it will require a few strenuous city ordinances and stiff fines for any refusal of compliance with same.

This summer, about sundown or a little later when you hear a dread drumming sound and later feel a sting and then a swelling of the arm or neck and then another and another and another till you finally give up your cool seat on the lawn and take refuge inside a hot house—then maybe you will think much about fighting.

A fast tongue and a slow brain are poor companions.

A. D. ENSEY GOES INTO CLOVER FARM STORE

Observers have noticed that A. D. Ensey has been as busy as a hunting dog the last few weeks, dressing out, and fixing up and polishing over his entire store, from front to the corners and nooks of the interior . . . re-arranging his stock, increasing his stock and making everything look "muchly up town."

This week the new style of name has appeared all over the whole place—CLOVER FARM. Clover Farm, Foods and Meats. This means he has gone "Clover Farm"—meaning he has aligned himself with a new grocery line in this part of Texas. Note that the predominating colors of the Clover Farm Stores are green and dark cream. This makes a pleasing combination.

This week A. D. has had the assistance of the Clover Farm Arrangement Engineer—Mr. Binford MacMoy of Ft. Worth. MacMoy will be present for the first Clover Farm Saturday, and increase the smiling welcome to all customers.

A. D. Ensey has won the esteem of everybody by his unusual friendly "atmosphere" and with this new dress of rich cream and living green, even his closest competitors salute him or his progressive spirit. As a matter of fact, Ensey has determined that when a prettier store is made it will be a dandy to excel his—even in the so-called cities. He is right. There is no use in letting any other place be more attractive than those in Hamlin. If people want up-to-the-minute modernness, demand it right here at home and not hunt it out in some other "sea port."

The last time the Herald had anything to say about the Ensey store the whole force of young men were kindly lonely-like, because there was not a baby in the bunch but recently A. D. and Mrs. Ensey adopted a "cute" little girl and maybe that's what makes him step about so proudly. So, there is plenty of room for congratulations, and that is what this young man is getting.

SO MANY . . .

Yes, perhaps every day someone says, "why don't you send me a bill for my paper?" or they say, "If I don't ask for my Herald to be renewed, then to remind me, don't send it out."

So, beginning in March we attached suitable notice to all whose paper had expired or would have expired at the end of March. All such names that did not ask us to set their dates up have been taken from the list, the printed list. And to further give each such reader a chance to not miss a Herald, we are addressing their names THIS week in "long hand" with another due notice.

You see, taking a paper is like buying sugar—you buy so much for a dollar—when that sugar plays out you do without or order some more. The grocery man does not keep a tab on each and everyone of you, and send up a new batch of sugar when he feels you are out of "sweetening." How does he know you really want some more sugar?

How does a paper know whether or not the reader wants another dollar's worth? We are anxious for every citizen in this community to get the Herald every week. It is your loss if you don't. Just send in or hand the hungry editor a dollar, and the "home paper" will come right along.

ICE AND SNOW RAIN AND WIND

Easter delivered a variety of weather to Texas this year. Last week when the Lion of March flirted with the forces of nature, high winds, dust storms, freezing weather, unusually cold, winding up with a white blanket of snow Monday morning.

Monday was March 29, and maybe we have had snow this late but it seldom comes that late. In 1930, on March 21 or 22, Hamlin country had a big snow for the time of year. Then it was about four inches deep, but the cold was not as severe as it was here last Saturday, or even Monday.

This country has had an usual supply of moisture for March and everything points to a good start-off for crops. Wheat is looking nicely, especially since the last amount of moisture made by the the snow and the slight rain.

The ranch parts of this country is in better condition than usual. Cattle have come through the winter in far better shape than generally.

Reports are that fruit has been damaged greatly and perhaps it all has been killed. It has been observed that tree life has not been hasty in budding out in this country. Usually by the first of April many trees have started a growth of buds and beginning to look green, but not so this year. Last year mesquite got so smart that it was "bitten" back, a thing that hardly ever happens. Last year there had been plenty of hot days before the end of March. If a cold late spring means a wet year, you had better begin to repair your roofs. But all signs fail some years and the only thing to do is to "take it on the chin" as it comes, cold or hot, wet or dry.

Freedom of speech is not a license to lie.

Hamlin's Best Wheat Farmer Sells His Crop of 500 Acres In Advance to Local Wheat Men

If you don't want to trade better not make J. C. Farris an offer—he is a quick trader on any line. Try him.

For the past SIX years J. C. Farris has made good wheat crops on the lands he operates just north of Hamlin.

It looks like, right now, this year's crop of 500 acres, is going to equal or excel anything in the past. His wheat is lovely and spread out over some of the pretties farm lands in this country. It is so attractive wheat buyers "bug out" their eyes and their mouths "water" and they begin to scratch their pocket books.

Such fine prospects as J. C. Farris has was just too much for Hamlin's wheat men: R. E. JOHNSON, L. H. MCBRIDE and JAMES E. MOODY.

FORFEIT UP FOR $1.00 PER BU.

The game fellows proposed to Mr. Farris that they would contract to pay him $1.00 per bushel for every bushel of wheat he would deliver to the cars in Hamlin at harvest time, be the amount 10 bushel or 10,000 bushel. J. C. says, "boys, it's a trade" put up your guarantee." So, up went a big cash forfeit and iron-clad contracts were drawn up.

WHO CAN LOSE?

This is an unusual deal for this country. Farris says he will be satisfied — Johnson, McBride, and Moody think wheat will be higher and so there you are. Who will win and who will lose? This is going to make interesting reading about June 1 to 15. We'll see what we see about prices of wheat.

Who will be next to offer to buy? Who wants to sell? What have you.

Better not "banter" J. C. Farris unless you wish to trade or back down.

Hamlin's "Wheat Men" may have a hunch about prices. They may get a safe margin of 25c per bushel and maybe not—anyway, J. C. Farris can sleep easy NOW—his wheat is growing, looks like 10,000 bushels and $8,000 or $10,000 is not so bad for a Jones County farmer. BUT that "forfeit" money already down there in the bank? If the market is lower than $1.00 every bushel J. C. shovels into the car eats down on the "forfeit" pile. Say, folks, this is very interesting. Farris will watch the season, the conditions, that's all he needs to worry about—Johnson, McBride and Moody Co. will watch the "board." The rest of us will watch THEM.

VISITED BROTHER

Ye editor and daughter, Miss Doris Pope, visited his brother, Walter Pope and family in Claude, Texas, last Saturday and Sunday. We were accompanied by Miss Kathryn Adkins, who went to visit old friends in Claude. This was our first trip to that part of the state in about fifteen years.

This trip also gave us our first time over Highway No. 4 as far as Childress and the first time over No. 5 from Childress to Amarillo. All of this great territory has undergone great changes to what once could be seen from the railway coach.

In our opinion that ranch country from Aspermont to the Cottle County line is the best in West Texas.

It appears to us that Cottle County is one of West Texas' best cotton counties and all the territory is full of other values.

Good highways have "shrunk" Texas in all directions—here and soon you are there.

Amarillo is the Panhandle city of the future and it grows as the other smaller places become smaller. A good car and a good road brings the ranchman from his distant pastures to a city in "no time."

ALATHEAN CLASS ENTERTAINED

The Alathean Class of the First Baptist Church was entertained Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Arice Jones with Mrs. Dick Holley as co-hostess.

The afternoon was spent playing "Bunko" in which Mrs. J. D. Burke won the most games, and for her award she was heavily laden with gifts for Mrs. McDaniels as the class was giving Mrs. McDaniels a shower.

A short business session was held with Mrs. Lowell Ballew presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. J. D. Burke. Mrs. Dave Stevenson and Mrs. Brown decided to entertain the class next month. The class was divided into four groups and all the members present drew names for their "Sunshine Sister." Mrs. C. F. Ferrell was elected assistant teacher of the class as Mrs. M. Smith has moved to Anson.

Lovely plates of ice cream and cake were passed to Mmes. Hayes, Miller, Pylate, Gibbons, Ballew, Owens, Rippetoe, Niedecken, Hallmark, Burke, Odum, Stevenson, McDaniels and Ferrell.—REPORTER.

Curiosa Americana

"She-Money"

AMONG bank-tellers two-dollar bills are known as "she money." To most people they're a synonym for "bad luck." This superstition is usually attributed to race-track men and is said to go back about a half century.

According to one story, a certain bookie lost everything but his shoes on the races and traced his bad luck to the day when he wagered a two-dollar bill on a certain horse. That story got around and soon all race-track men began believing that these bills were Jonahs.

Another story traces it back to Pythagoras who more than 2,500 years ago declared: "The number two is the symbol of diversity, or inequality, of division and of separation. Two is an evil principle, a number of bad augury, characterizing disorder, confusion and change."

Anyway, few people like to be given a two-dollar bill. The exceptions are paymasters in mills, factories, etc., who pay wages such as $12, $14 and the like. A paymaster who pays off a lot of $12-a-week workers can save himself a lot of extra motion by reaching for a $2 bill instead of two ones to add to the $10 bill or two fives. In fact, with 1,000 workers he saves just 1,000 extra motions. So paymasters are about the only people who ask for these bills at banks.

Few banks will give you $2 notes unless you ask for them. One reason is that they are easily confused with $1 bills and handed out as such. That's why they're called "she money"—they confuse you and cost you money!

KNOW TEXAS

DENTON, Texas, March 22.—Many Texas streams seldom run dry, because of the abundance of artesian springs. Besides the East Texas rivers, which are entirely in the coastal belt, and the rivers with their upper basins in the plains and prairies, there is a whole group of streams with their headwaters in the great springs of the Edwards plateau.

Although these streams have small channels and small drainage areas, they are characterized by a large and constant flow. Arising along the eastern and southern edge of the plateau, they spring from one of the greatest natural water reservoirs in the United States.

Principal springs from this reservoir are Barton Springs near Austin, San Marcos Springs at the head of that river, Comal Springs near New Braunfels, San Antonio and San Pedro Springs in San Antonio, Los Moras Springs near Brackettville, San Felipe Springs near Del Rio and Goodenough Springs near Comstock.

The Comal Springs have by far the largest average flow of water, which is 196,000,000 gallons daily, but the Goodenough Springs on certain occasions reach a maximum flow of 452,000,000 gallons daily. During dry periods these streams often flow into the large rivers and keep them from drying up.

DENTON, March 29. — Checking up on the barber around the corner and waging a heroic fight against the malaria menace are two of the varied activities which come under the supervision of the Texas Board of Health.

Considering the peculiar health problems of Texas, the ten board members and their staff have a difficult job. Besides the inspection problems presented by 900 miles of Mexican border, the long coast line adds the dangers of disease transmission from foreign vessels.

With the aid of a widespread organization of county and city officers, however, the situation is being capably handled. At the annual expense of $272,114.37 for the conservation of health and sanitation, according to the 1936 figures, the state maintains seven departments. These are the Boards of Rural Sanitation, Barbers' Examiners, Medical Examiners, Dental Examiners, Cosmetologists' and Hairdressers' Examiners, the Department of Vital Statistics and the Administration of the General Fund.

In addition to the maintenance of these departments, which come immediately under the State Health Board, Texas also advances the cause of healthful living through its various eleemosynary and correctional institutions and through its medical branch of education at Galveston.

Also, in an emergency such as the New London tragedy, the board offers its services and cooperation in getting doctors, nurses and supplies to the scene of the tragedy.

These activities contribute to the fact that the mortality rate of Texas, which is 9.8 deaths per 1,000 of population, is lower than that of the nation as a whole, which is 11 deaths per 1000.

FARLEY, THE IRISHMAN

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only).

President's Postmaster General, the Honorable Jim Farley, visited this week. Coming on official business, the dedication of magnificent postoffice buildings at Waco and Antonio, he had opportunity to meet thousands of Texas people. His trip began at Dallas where he was entertained for breakfast by several hundred people. Traveling by auto he stopped at Waxahachie and Hillsboro, where he was greeted by several hundred people, and he arrived at Waco at eleven o'clock.

At noon he attended a luncheon given by the business men of Waco, and there were present more than a thousand postmasters who had been invited to the dedication of the magnificent postoffice at Waco.

Mr. Farley is the most lovable Irishman we ever met, and in thirty minutes speech at the luncheon table he sold himself into the hearts and minds no unmistakable way, and he was cheered to the echo time and time again as he discussed his pleasure in having the opportunity to meet the citizenship of Texas. No President ever had a more efficient and devoted representative than President Roosevelt has in the person of this lovable and talented Postmaster General.

Mr. Farley discussed at the Waco date the much discussed issue raised by President Roosevelt's message to Congress, asking for the increase in the membership of the Supreme Court. He explained in some detail but at no great length what the President had in mind in proposing the increase in membership of the court. He told the audience that the President in pursuance of his political promises of the National Democratic platform wanted to do something to better the conditions of the farmer and to provide homes for thousands of tenants who now live in unsuitable and discomforting surroundings. He also said that the President was seriously concerned about the improvement of labor conditions and that the President was whole heartedly in favor of the government meeting the unemployment situation with reasonable hours and a living wage.

He said that the Supreme Court for reasons best known to them to have held unconstitutional every law passed by the administration looking to the solution of these governmental problems. As a result of the present attitude of the Supreme Court, he told the people that it was impossible to go forward or to bring about any relief of present conditions. In so many words Mr. Farley contended that the welfare of the people and the nation were being sacrificed upon the altar of judicial technicality. He said that instead of the President wanting to control the courts, he only wanted to keep the courts from controlling Congress and the President, acting together for the public good. He contended that instead of the President usurping the powers of his office that the courts were usurping the power of their office by taking from the executive office and the congressional office the exercise of their powers vested by the Constitution of the United States. He said that instead of the President exercising judicial power contrary to the constitution that the courts were exercising the legislative powers of the President and the Congress to the detriment of the people.

Mr. Farley was given a complimentary breakfast at the Driskill Hotel by Honorable Ewell Nall, Postmaster at Austin, and many prominent people were present. My wife had the honor of being the only lady attending by invitation the early morning affair.

Mr. Farley addressed the Legislature at 9:45 and the galleries were packed to capacity who again welcomed Mr. Farley's visit to Texas. Mr. Farley again covered largely the same ground as in his Waco speech, and again was cheered by the great throng. A majority of the Legislature approved of what he said about existing conditions.

I had the honor of riding with Mr. Farley from Waco to Austin, and, of course, I had an opportunity to look him over carefully. Any one who meets him will come to the conclusion that he is a patriot in every sense of the word who wants to do something for his country in his day and generation. I do not think Mr. Farley is a candidate for any office, but if the people should call him to the service of the country as President, I do not think he would decline. But as that question does not come up until 1940, Mr. Farley will find it necessary to take care of his official and private obligations. He would make a great President. He is only 47 year of age now. His knowledge and experience in public affairs have already made him a real statesman, and it is to be hoped that the nation may have advantage of his ability as the next President of the United States.

When the name of Marcella Cummings appeared in the list of dead in the New London school, along with many others, it brought sadness to many who knew her.

Less than fifteen months before, her father, G. V. Cummins, had been the victim of a boiler explosion at Odessa. Both of these were among the first to transfer from Jones County Burial Ass'n, having policies No. 130 and 135, through M. S. Cummins, (father and grandfather), R. 2, Trent, Texas. THIRTEEN BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. R. F. Andrus was hostess to the Thirteen Bridge Club, Wednesday, March 17. Mrs. V. A. Galloway held high score for guest and Mrs. Tom Vaughan scored high for club members.

A very attractive salad plate was served to Mmes. R. E. Harlan, T. E. Jones, J. A. Nelson, Roy Hayes, J. J. Owen, C. A. Thompson, Tom Vaughan, A. B. Young, C. F. Ferrell, V. A. Galloway and J. T. Young.

At the home of Mrs. A. B. Young the Thirteen Club enjoyed a very delightful afternoon on March 19.

The St. Patrick theme was used in tallies and refreshments consisting of vegetable salad, tea crackers, iced tea and favors.

Those present were Mmes. R. F. Andrus, R. E. Harlan, T. E. Jones, J. A. Nelson, Roy Hayes, J. J. Owens, C. A. Thompson, Tom Vaughan, and C. F. Ferrell. Guests were Mrs. Clinton Barrow, Sidney Simpson, and Calvin Smith.

GALA BRIDGE CLUB

The Gala Bridge Club and guests, Miss Meddie Mae Bynum, Mrs. Cory and Mrs. Metta Haines, were graciously entertained at the home of Mrs. J. P. Morgan on Union Avenue, March 25.

At the conclusion of three games of bridge, everyone took plenty of time to count up her score—the result being Meddie Mae Bynum high and Viva Milstead low. Then an attractive plate was passed to the following: Misses Edwina Gilbert, Viva Milstead, Pearl Hudson, Nettie Bowen, Lennie Greenway, Ernestine Weatherford, Elsie Wienke, Ruby and Irene Thompson, and guests.

After a prolonged but most interesting business meeting with Miss Wienke presiding, all bade the hostess and Mrs. Morgan a kind good night.—REPORTER.

MRS. JOHNSON

ENTERTAINED CLUB

Mrs. W. F. Johnson entertained the Tuesday Club in her home on Jackson Avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Four games of contract were played.

ed with Mrs. J. C. Culbertson winning high score.

At the tea hour a sandwich plate with orange cake and coffee was served.

Those present were Mmes. Culbertson, H. O. Cassle, R. B. Wiar, Bowen Pope, D. O. Sauls, W. J. Poe and Miss Pearl Whiteley.

THE BUSY BEES CLUB

The Busy Bees met with Mrs. E. A. Hewett Tuesday. There were eighteen present. Mrs. Taylor showed the most beautiful quilt and everyone enjoyed seeing it.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Elmer Criswell, Tuesday April 13. We are going to piece quilts at this meeting. Everyone will enjoy this work.

Those present were: Mmes. Harbor, Jones, Taylor, Jenkins, Vaughan, Herbst, Riddle, Joiner, Harris, Weaver, Criswell, Matthews, Fletcher, Hewett, Bonds, Goodwin, Misses Marjorie and Dorris Riddle. —REPORTER.

MISS MILSTEAD HOSTESS

FOR BRIDGE

Miss Viva Milstead entertained Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Tumlin on Central Avenue with four tables of bridge.

Rooms were decorated with blooming potted plants and a spring theme was used in appointments. In the contract games Miss Pat Allbritton and Mr. Delma Shelburne held high scores.

An interesting entertainment was the showing of some moving pictures by Mr. Ivan Collier. These were scenes which he had taken Christmas while on his vacation in Mexico.

Strawberry cream and cake was served as refreshments.

Those enjoying this pleasant hour were Misses Anna Mae Hudson, Margaret Roe, Ruby Thompson, Irene Thompson, Ernestine Weatherford, Pat Allbritton, Kathryn Adkins and Bonita Duckworth; Messrs. Tommy Cox, Ivan Collier, Austin Poe, Pit Moore, Forest Greenway, Arlie Cassle, Delma Shelburne and Rupert Jackson.

"HAPPY-GO-LUCKY"

Please pardon us if we have been too negligent in reporting the progress of "Happy-Go-Lucky" to you. But we wanted to wait until the Parent-Teachers Conference was over, so everybody would begin concentrating on the Senior Play, where they left off concentrating on the conference.

Did you hear that, Mrs. Brundage and all the rest of your faithful and entertaining P.T.A. members.

The Seniors were amazed at the wonderful dexterity which you ladies used in getting your husbands all dressed up and present at the Friday night P.T.A. program. Our hats are off to you.

However, due to your great success, the Seniors are pleading for you to use your influence in getting your husbands out to see "Happy-Go-Lucky." If you women give your consent to our plea, our worries are over. Thank-you ladies and we'll be looking for you and all your loved ones April 22, 8:00 P. M., at the Senior Play.—US, WE and OUR.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

ONLY A LITTLE WHILE HERE
(In Memory of Roy Allen Wilson)

Only a seed—but it chanced to fall
In a little cleft of a city wall
And taking root, grew bravely up
Till a tiny blossom crowned its top.

Only a thought—but the world it wrought
Could never by tongue or pen be taught
For it ran through a life like a thread
Of gold

And the life bore fruit—a hundred-fold.

Only a word—but it was spoken in love
With a whispered prayer to the Lord above
And the angels in heaven rejoiced
Once more

For a new-born soul entered in by the door.

President Lester Baize of the Jones County Singing Convention, announces that their annual meet will be at the Anson High School Auditorium this year, Sunday April 4th. He says they are expecting a great crowd.

M'CAULLEY CLUB IN MONTHLY BANQUET

McCaulley, March 31.—Dr. Tom W. Brabham, president of McMurry College, was guest speaker at the monthly banquet of the Booster Club, representing the community interests of McCaulley, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the banquet room of the Baptist church.

The Y. W. A. of the church served the menu to some forty guests. President Garland Davis was toastmaster. Rev. J. R. Bateman, local Methodist pastor, introduced Dr. Brabham. Vocal numbers were rendered by Misses Lila and Faye Lee.

In its business session the Club voted to renew the Saturday Trades Day drawings. The Secretary, Levi McCollum, was instructed to contact a reputable medical doctor with a view of locating him here since at present there is no resident physician in McCaulley.

Other visitors, besides Dr. Brabham, were Dick Dunlap, McMurry student, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Coy Fielder and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cain, Hamlin.

The Jones County Library Project Ready to Be Released

In Anson there is a quaint old house just off the square that stands as a landmark of earlier days, which was the property and the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferrell for a quarter of a century.

Mr. Ferrell preceded Mrs. Ferrell in death by several years, and Mrs. Ferrell continued living in this house until her passing in 1931.

In settling her estate, Mrs. Ferrell's brother, Mr. John D. Freeman, of McGregor, and her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Freeman Jones of Austin decided this property to the Christopher H. Freeman Chapter D. A. R., and the Tuesday Study Club, as a memorial to Mrs. Ferrell and her husband, C. C. Ferrell. Mrs. Ferrell was greatly interested in these two organizations at the time of her passing.

These two organizations decided, with the approval of Mr. Freeman and Mrs. Jones, to put this property to a wider use so everyone could benefit, and what could be more fitting, considering the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell and the needs of the people than to convert this quaint old building into a County Library building, something in which every man, woman and child of Jones County could have a part.

So the D. A. R. Chapter and the Tuesday Study Club decided to sponsor a project for this building through the W. P. A. while there was a chance of getting Federal aid, using the old house for the frame work of a rock veneer building.

This project had to be submitted by the County though the County is paying nothing on the cost of the building. The sponsors part of the expense is to be met by the two organizations, the business men and other citizens of Anson.

The project was submitted and approved in 1935, though not released at that time. It is now in line for release after a few corrections in plans and specifications are made.

Mrs. George Harrell, president of the Tuesday Study Club, Mrs. J. C. Edwards, Regent of Christopher H. Freeman D. A. R., members of both these organizations, the P. T. A. and business men of Anson are actively behind the project. And every section of Jones county — Stamford, Hamlin, Hawley, Lueders and the rural districts are watchfully interested in seeing the project completed, as it will ultimately mean Library service for every part of the county.

The Herald compliments the promoters of the County Library movement. It has taken a lot of work and interest to make progress as far as they have come. This library is to be a memorial to the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferrell and will be a source of inspiration to thousands of citizens in Jones County in this generation and the thousands who will live in this county in the future. Ultimately this property will be offered to the County as Custodians.

"Listen, Folks"

BY JIM FERGUSON

OFFICIAL ABILITY

While the next election is many months away, it will be a cracking good idea for the people to begin now to think about the type and kind of people that they want and need to fill the important offices at the next election.

To avoid the personal controversies that arise in all campaigns it will be well for the great masses of voters to think about me as well as measures.

Our experience for the past six to eight years has emphasized the necessity of ability to fill our important offices. The imperative needs of our government demonstrate the evil effect of placing incompetent and inexperienced people in high office.

In the first place nobody should be elected to any office unless they have had some experience in private life that in some measure qualifies them for the office which they seek.

Honesty is a commendable virtue of any candidate that seeks our support. But honesty alone is a very weak recommendation for official honors, and our government affairs have been often mismanaged by ignorance as well as dishonesty.

Just now our government is threatened with ignorance and inexperience as well as corruption.

BLAMED CAREFUL

In the selection of the next governor the people should be blamed careful that they don't get a does of either. With our state affairs afflicted with inexperience and incompetence and likewise threatened with corruption, it is the solemn duty of the voter now to begin to look at the list of those who will seek our support for governor, and find out who they are and what they stand for. If none of the offerings look good, then we should look further for somebody who can make some showing of experience and accomplishment as well as honesty that will recommend them to our favorable consideration.

Let us not be in a hurry. The election is some months away and the people should improve the time in picking a real individual for the job. There never was a time when the office should seek the man as much as now. Yes, of course we want an honest man, but that does not mean that we want some ballyhoor that is in love with the sound of his own voice who alone recommends his honesty when his neighbors remain silent on his.

In the next place the governor of Texas should be a fearless and morally courageous man. With labor troubles and problems confronting us the next governor of Texas should be as brave as Julius Caesar, and as smart as Andrew Jackson and as honest as Abraham Lincoln.

WHO CAN FILL THE ORDER

It will be hard to fill the order, but let us avoid mistakes if possible. Let us demand of the next governor before we elect him to tell us what he stands for and what he proposed to do. Let him show us that he has made a success of his own business before we turn him over ours. Let him prove to us that he has had experience and success in some line of sufficient volume and kind that in some degree will qualify him to grapple with the legislative and financial interests of the vast and growing State of Texas. The next governor of Texas can make or break us. He can wreck on the rocks of ignorance and arrogance or he can destroy us by the hand of corruption.

IT IS A SHAME

It is a shame that Texas with all its rich domain and natural resources must stand by and see our great state destroyed by an ignorant and corrupt management of our state government. If the people permit such condition to continue, it is their fault.

With back breaking tax burdens, the result of ignorance and corruption which already oppresses us past endurance, certainly we can find a patriot somewhere who can lead us out of official bondage in time of our dire distress. We can if we will try. I have no candidate or favorite. I believe the people of Texas realize the imperative necessity of getting the best man for the place. We should begin now to look and listen for the good of our welfare and destiny.
